President's Message

Hi Everyone,

Summer is here and we have experienced an exceptionally awesome number of days of sun. For many it is a busy time attending shows and trials and from reading show results I see members are enjoying going to events and seem to be having a great amount of success with their dogs. Congratulations go out to Cora Lee Romano and her Branch for staging a very successful National in June.

By now you will have heard that our sport is facing many challenges including dwindling numbers and various pressures from many fronts including restrictive legislation against breeders in many municipalities. The CKC is also facing many set backs financially as a result of decreased revenues from the trend to lower registration revenues and smaller entries at dog show. Many breeders are having difficulty selling puppies as there is a very soft market for purebred dogs at this time.

It is time for all breeders and dog fanciers to become more creative in promoting our sport and our dogs. We must nurture new people into our sport if we are to survive. When was the last time you were genuinely helpful with a newcomer to encourage them to continue and have fun with their dogs? We need a change in attitude if we are to survive.....one that would make novices feel more welcome and enjoy the great camaraderie that we share with each other.

Respectfully,

Richard Paquette , President

Member Profile

My Name is Lisa Dickie. My husband, our two kids and I live in a small town in Nova Scotia called Bridgewater. We were both Medic in the Armed Forces. It was a great career and when it was time to retire after many years of traveling through out the world, we wanted to have a small business that could give us the opportunity to be home for our kids and have fun! In 2003 we opened a grooming shop that is now thriving. We get to play with little critters all day... How cool is that?!

You can say that I'm relatively new to our Club and this is the 1st time I'm contributing something to our official publication.

I wanted to share a few things that makes me proud of the great success that I have been having with my home breed girl, Can Ch. FurryAngels Times for Miracles. (AKA Oceania)

Since May, I am very pleased to share our accomplishments and I wanted to showcase them. At just 8 months she became a new Canadian champion.

Oceania is now 9 months and these are accomplishments so far:
one group second,
three one group 3rd,
one group 4th and 9 Best Puppy in Group.

I would like to take the time to acknowledge the people that have help me and trusted me since I started in 2006. These are some of the people that I feel have help me along the way.

France Ferland, Rachel Mossman, Isabelle Beaulne, Stephane St-Onge, Wendy Paquette. I put them in chronological order not to offend anyone. There are many other people that I should name but just know that I am very grateful to all of you for being there beside me, so from the bottom of my heart, I thank you!

I would like to take the time to thank my daughter Sarah for all the help at the shows and at home.

Since October 2006, I have worked hard and was able with persistence and determination put 8 conformation championships on my boys and girls. One of which doesn't belong to me but was a pleasure to handle for a friend in the ring. Merci Stephane et Roch!

I feel I have learned quickly and I do realize that I still have lots to learn because everyday is a new day and everyday I learn something new.

After all that I need to brush a certain little fluff ball named Oceania.

Thank you again and all the best,

Lisa .

Denmark 2010 World Dog Show

On June 16th, we left for Denmark for the 2010 World Dog Show which would be held in the town of Herning from June 24-27. We would arrive in Copenhagen where we would first spend a few days sightseeing and then drive three hours to the small coastal town of Ringkøbing where we would spend the week prior to the shows with good friends Bo and Anne Skalin and their family from Finland. We had rented a beach house and were looking forward to the week of R&R. Herning is located one hours drive west of Ringkøbing and would be an easy commute once the Dog Show started.

We were travelling with two dogs, "Mia" BIS BISS Ch. Winterholme's American Girl and "Romeo" MRBIS Ch. Winterholme's Love Story. The dogs were very well behaved during the long flight and travel time and settled into our room in Copenhagen with no problem. We were anxious to get some fresh air and see the sights of Copenhagen and after a short nap, headed out into the beautiful, historic city. As we are adventurous and like to try local cuisine, our favorite way to accomplish this is to walk through the streets and stop at every place that catches our attention. We then have a drink and choose an appetizer off the menu, something unique. We spent the evening meandering in and out of places and up and down the cobblestone streets. The food was delicious and the people friendly...Copenhagen has a lively nightlife!

The next day, we decided the best way to see everything in the short amount of time we had was to take tours, one city tour and one water tour. These were great as you got to see all the main attractions and received commentary on all the historical sights and events along the way. The weather was beautiful and it made for a wonderful day.

The next day we left for Ringkøbing and thoroughly enjoyed our drive through this beautiful country. Known for its cheese, the majority of Denmark is lush, rolling pasture and the farms and houses are typical Danish design. We arrived in Ringkøbing with no problem and received an enthusiastic welcome from our friends. The house that Anne had found was amazing. It was situated in the outlying area of Sondervig. The beach was surrounded by large dunes covered in grasses, flowers and shrubbery. In between the dunes, people had built summer cottages. Some were Danish and some were like ours, very modern with all the amenities. Our house slept 10 people comfortably. We each had our own areas complete with a deck and also available was a 4 person hot tub and sauna. It was easy to accommodate all the people and dogs and we quickly got into a very easy, relaxed groove. Time passed lazily and it was like we had all been together for ages making it an extremely enjoyable time together.

On Thursday, the Dog Show started and we travelled into Herning to have a look at the show site. We were thankful that Bo was one of the invited guest Judges as that provided prime parking and no waiting. The lines to get into the World Dog Show can sometimes take hours to get through. The Show was hosted by the Dansk Kennel Klub and was held at the MCH Messecenter. This consisted of 10 halls for the indoor rings and the Grand Hall for the Group Judging, Best in Show and daily spectator events. Outside were 14 more rings, making the grand total of 61 rings which were all going from 8:00am until around 4:00pm, for four days straight. The total number of entries was 19,354 and it was estimated over 75,000 people would attend over the four days. We found it to be very well laid out and organized and there was plenty of room to maneuver around. Two complete halls of vendors made for the shoppers dream of dog paraphernalia.

Shih Tzu judging started on Saturday with Luis Pinto Teixeira from Portugal judging. The total entry for Shih Tzu was 113 and it appeared that there would be a good entry from around the world. We arrived early in the morning and were happy to see our friends from South Africa, Chris and Erna Aucamp. They had set up next to another good friend Pasquale Romanelli from Italy and his friends. Exhibitors were set up all around the ring so they could watch while they got ready and it provided a great opportunity to meet everyone and see the dogs.

We had been warned that the non-use of product is strictly enforced and once reported, if the tests prove you have used anything, you lose all your wins. We had lots of discussion over this and as we groomed our dogs, were warned by loudspeaker of the rule. As we walked around to see everyone, we realized that many people were using it regardless, however, it was not being received well by other exhibitors.

Males were judged first and then females, as in the North American system, however, with different classes:

Puppy 6-9 months,
Junior 9-18 months
Intermediate 15-24 months
Open from 15 months
Champion Class
Veteran Class

One winner is taken for each class and then they all compete, including the Champion Winner, for our equivalent of Winners Male/Winners Female which is the CAC and/or CACIB. For the Breed judging, the two CACIB Winners returned as well as the Junior Winners and Veteran Winners.

It was especially nice to see the Veterans Class as not many North American exhibitors will keep a dog in coat once it is finished showing. The dogs were obviously delighted to be once again, strutting their stuff. The other wonderful class was the Breeder's Group in which a breeder must exhibit a minimum of three and maximum of five from their kennel. It was great to see the consistency in the lines and the variety in the groups from each kennel.

Mr. Teixeira judged efficiently and very quickly. There was no extra time to "work" your dog and he wanted things moving. His ring steward was kept hopping and all the exhibitors were sweating. It certainly added to the excitement!

We were thrilled at the end of the day to have had such success. "Mia" won the breed making her the 2010 World Winner and "Romeo" was the 2010 Junior Winner. "Matt" bred by Richard Paquette and Wendy Paquette and owned by them and Pasquale was the male CACIB winner, giving him his World Winner Title as well.

Also, for the first time this year, Canada had sent a Junior Handler to compete in the World Competition. Melanie Parker from Thunder Bay was Canada's representative and she did a great job handling Mia in the competition. The Junior Handling final was held in the main hall and both Melanie and Mia handled the bright lights and big time without a hitch.

We thoroughly enjoyed our trip to the World Dog Show. Denmark is a beautiful country and the Danish Kennel Club did an outstanding job hosting this year's show. Next year, the World Show will be held in Paris from July 7-10.
